

Experiences and Innovation in land courses at the University of South Pacific

Chetha Ben (Fiji)

Key words: Curricula; Education; Professional practice; Young surveyor; Higher Education; Online Learning; COVID-19; Pacific

SUMMARY

Students in the Pacific still have an issue with the digital divide. Majority of the students have complained of a lack of access to the internet, computer, and laptops. The other half have studied online using a mobile phone at the least. The student association at USP has contributed significantly to helping students in however way possible. With the help of the toll-free service, which was an initiative of the Deputy Vice Chancellor Education and Student Administrative Services. This presentation will share stories on how learning took place during COVID and what this means post-Covid.

Experiences and Innovation in land courses at the University of South Pacific (11238)
Chetha Ben (Fiji)

FIG e-Working Week 2021
Smart Surveyors for Land and Water Management - Challenges in a New Reality
Virtually in the Netherlands, 21–25 June 2021